Rev. P. C. Wright Makes His Last Address.

Mrs. Edward A. Huntington, Secretary of the Society, issued for Huntington-Whyte Wedding.

There was a large attendance Sunday at the last service of the Rev. P. C. Wright at the Sheltering Arms. His address answered the question, "How may we have Christ mean what He ought to us?" He ought to mean a real personal Savior to each, he said. He ought to be really precious, there should be a thrill of joy, the power of sin having been now—I have a friend who will keep me in temptation. He will go with me ever the rough way. He lived with God. He will bring God into the relationship of Father to me. Religion is for every moment of life, as real as eating and drinking, a practical everyday experience. All the joy of life should be intensified because we are right with God. We may make humble service full of glory by the character we put into it. Whether our position is high or low, Christ ought to be our friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Larose Observe Their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Larose of No. 9 South Slater avenue, was observed in a simple but most enjoyable manner. The couple went through the wedding ceremony that 50 years ago had united them in a life of love and companionship. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Philip L. Massicot at 9 o'clock in the morning in the Sacred Heart church. The bride was Arthur Seurette and the bridesmaid was Amanda Courtemanche. The ceremony was witnessed by many friends and relatives of the couple, and there were also a number of visitors present. After the marriage ceremony a beautiful wedding dinner was served the guests in St. Louis hall and about 50 covers were laid. The dining table was very attractively decorated with large vases of flowers. Following the dinner after the dancing and musical selections were enjoyed by all and between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening all sat down to a substantial supper. The festivities were continued until a late hour when the guests left for their homes. Mr. and Mrs. Larose received many handsome gifts of gold and the guests departed wishing the couple many happy and prosperous years. One of the features of the day was that there were four generations at the celebration.

Notes.
